

KCCAT is growing and looking for experienced and enthusiastic individuals to join the team at our uniquely integrated specialty center! This is an excellent opportunity for an evidence-based psychologist with extensive training and experience with OCD, anxiety, mood, and related conditions. A cognitive-behavioral orientation that includes experience with exposure-based and behavioral interventions for moderate to severe presentations is required, as is comfort with assisting in services for youth and adults.

KCCAT is a fun, supportive, team-staffed facility for evidence-based treatment, training, and research. We focus on providing high-quality patient care from traditional outpatient to intensive and community-based services. Employees enjoy a well-appointed and spacious work environment, flexible hours, and patient-tailored services without the restraints of managed care, with ways of combining direct clinical duties with additional program development, scholarship, and research. Suitable candidates will be creative, organized, self-disciplined, and work well within a team approach.

Location

Overland Park, Kansas (Kansas City metropolitan area), United States. Employees have the option of hybrid work arrangements, but this is not a remote position.

- Learn more about our center at kcanxiety.com
- Learn more about our vibrant and affordable community at visitkc.com

Compensation and Benefits

Compensation is designed to afford employees significant flexibility in their schedule while maintaining full access to benefits. Clinical caseloads have a natural ebb and flow, and employees should expect some variability in their hours from month to month. In general, however, full-time employees can expect annual compensation for clinical services ranging from $78,000 to $120,000+, in addition to generous benefits. We will discuss this in more detail with qualified and interested candidates.

Employee benefits include paid health and professional liability insurance, retirement plan with company match, continuing education allowance, paid vacation and family leave, relocation assistance, and more.

Qualifications and Responsibilities

Required base qualifications include a health service psychology doctorate (Clinical, Counseling, School) from an APA-accredited program and internship; must be eligible for licensure in Kansas and Missouri. Three or more years prior experience with pediatric OCD and anxiety spectrum conditions is strongly preferred.

Specific responsibilities, compensation, and benefits depend on qualifications and experience. Primary activities will include delivering evidenced-based psychological services, assisting with the supervision of trainees, and helping to develop, deliver, and promote programming reflecting KCCAT's treatment, research, and educational mission.

OCD/Anxiety Specialist (Child & Adolescent Focus)

Kansas City Center for Anxiety Treatment, P.A. (KCCAT)

To Apply

Individuals should submit curriculum vitae and a letter of interest. Proceeding candidates must supply three letters of recommendation and permission to speak with references. (Confidential initial inquiries are welcome; we will only contact references if we speak to and discuss with a candidate first.)

To apply, please complete our Position Interest Form and send application materials to the attention of KCCAT Director Katie Kriegshauser, PhD, ABPP, via email at careers@kcanxiety.com

Note: The current opening is for a full-time Staff Psychologist position with a negotiable start date. Applications for other employment roles are also accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis as we consider ongoing development and staffing needs. We are always happy to keep applications of fit on file for notification of any future openings.